Hi Mary,
I couldn't come to your birthday party because my father had an accident yesterday.
I wanted to finish my homework about Albert Einstein.
I went to the library in the morning. When I finished my research, I took all the printouts and went out.
Suddenly I heard a terrible sound. It was a car, my father's car. Can you believe that? I was shocked. I ran to the car and luckily my father was OK. The ambulance came and we went to the hospital. It was night when I came back home with my father. And guess what? I lost my mobile phone.
I'm sorry for your party.
